

STUDENTS WILL DEDICATE POKAGON TEPEE THURSDAY

The Indian tepee, which has been bought by the advanced nature study class with the funds raised on a recent "tag day," is to be erected on the Normal campus east of the Science building on Thursday and dedicated with exercises which are decidedly unique in their peculiar appropriateness. This tepee belonged to Chief Pokagon, and the Normal science class is to have the extreme pleasure of entertaining on this occasion the granddaughter of the chief, Julia Pokagon, together with her husband and two children, also C. H. Engle, the advisor and friend of Pokagon, from Hartford. The party arrives this afternoon. Mr. Engle and his wife will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Childs, 506 West Congress street, while in the city. Julia Pokagon with her husband and children will be entertained at the home of Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Sherzer. This evening the guests will be taken to the exhibition given by the women's classes in physical education at the Normal gymnasium.

Thursday morning Mr. Engle and Julia Pokagon's husband will put up the wigwam on the Normal grounds, and at three in the afternoon the dedicatory exercises will occur. Mr. Engle will make an introductory speech, giving the history of the wigwam and some reminiscences of the old chief, whom he very intimately knew. The dedicatory address next occurring will be given by Julia Pokagon.

Following this will come an event which will treat the entire company to a novel scene and a certain Normal student to a memorable experience. It is that a member of the nature study class will be made a member of the tribe and crowned princess and made the official custodian of the wigwam.

At the close of the exercises the mayor and common council together with the nature study class will escort the party in autos to what is known as the Godfrey trading post which is located just in the rear of the Occidental Hotel. They will also drive along the old Pottawattamies trail. This would lead down Congress street from Detroit and across the bridge. Here, according to one authority, it follows up along the Huron river to Ann Arbor, while, according to another authority, the Saline road should be followed. However the route followed in this trip will include a ride to Saline, from thence to Ann Arbor and over the north river road back to Ypsilanti. The whole program for the day promises a novel species of entertainment, and makes an interesting addition to the history which will in future be handed down about the old tepee on the Normal campus.

Hamilton Whist Club Ends Fifteenth Year

OLDEST CARD CLUB IN CITY—MEMBERS ENJOY GOOD CLOSING SESSION.

The Hamilton Whist Club finished its fifteenth season of playing—thus making them the oldest card club in the city—Tuesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple. The regular number of tables, which is four, was increased to six, the substitutes being the guests of the club. The company played in the north parlor, which bowls filled with roses and daisies placed on the mantel and in the windows and massed against the dark woodwork had made very attractive. The gentlemen came at half after five and a six o'clock picnic tea was served in the Temple dining room. A considerable part of the company remained in the evening to play.

Mrs. N. B. Harding and Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Trim of Detroit came out for the occasion, as the ladies had belonged to the club when residing in Ypsilanti.

The club will resume playing on Tuesday, September 19.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT COMMITTEE MEETING THURSDAY EVENING

Another important conference on encampment plans will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William H. Deibel. All committees, such as the parade and band committees, etc., should be present.

SCENE IN NICARAGUA'S CAPITAL WHERE REVOLT IS BEGINNING, AND THE UNITED STATES CONSULATE

general disorder here resulting from the carefully planned explosion which killed many soldiers presages another revolution. Great excitement prevails. It is known that the junta in New Orleans has been preparing for a revolution to divide Nicaragua into two nations, east and west. Juan J. Estrada, head of the republic after a long revolution, was unseated some weeks ago. Adolfo Diaz is now president, but General Luis Mena is the real ruler. He represents the Conservatives, who, although outnumbered by many thousands by the Liberals managed to unseat a Liberal president. Many of the residents of Managua have sought protection at the United States consulate.

Edwin F. Atkins Again on the Witness Stand.

TARIFF AIDS COAST PLANTS

Sugar Refineries in California Make a Larger Margin of Profit—Witness Unable to Answer Many Questions.

Washington, June 14.—Effort to discover whether noncompetitive zones had been established by the American Sugar Refining company in an effort to control prices, marked the resumption of the "sugar trust" inquiry. Edwin F. Atkins, acting head of the sugar corporation, who became official of the company two years ago, said he was unable to answer from personal knowledge many of the questions put to him.

Atkins declared, however, that the American Sugar Refining company owned practically a majority of stock in sugar refineries in California, and that it did not attempt to compete with them. He gave as the reason for his abandonment of the coast business the freight rate difference of half a cent a pound on sugar transportation from the eastern refineries. This, he insisted, was the principal reason for the failure of competition.

Interrogated by Representative Malby of New York, the witness said that 50 per cent of the Western Sugar Refining company in California was owned by the American Sugar Refining company, while the Spreckles family owned the other 50 per cent. The American also owned, Mr. Atkins said, 49 per cent in the Alameda Sugar Refining company. What the purpose of the purchase of this stock was, Mr. Atkins was unable to tell the committee.

The sugar tariff, according to Mr. Atkins, enables the Pacific coast sugar refineries to make a larger margin of profit than the eastern refineries. Replying to Representative Raker of California, Mr. Atkins said the price of sugar was the same on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, but the Pacific manufacturers are able to sell as far east as Chicago, while the eastern refineries cannot ship farther west than Kansas City and Omaha.

"The reason is that the Pacific coast has free raw sugar," said Mr. Atkins. "The refineries there get the Hawaiian and Philippine sugars without duty, while we have to pay $1.34 duty on each hundred pounds of Cuban sugar."

"Ought sugar to be lower on the Pacific coast?" asked Representative Raker.

"Yes," said Mr. Atkins, who added that he knew nothing of the conduct of the far western companies. He did not know Mr. Spreckles, he said, nor what interest the latter had in various beet sugar companies of the west.

"HEARTS OF GOLD"

PLEASE CHILDREN'S DAY CANTATA AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

"Hearts of Gold," a very pleasing Children's Day Cantata by Ida Reed Smith, was presented by the members of the Sunday school at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Miss Isca McClury took the part of Angel of Flowers and called to her assistance a group of children in costume representing "Mother Earth," Sunbeam, Rain and Dew, and at their beck the various familiar flowers of summer appeared with characteristic messages in song and recitation. The program was well executed and the children made a pretty appearance against the rich, deep green foliage with which the organ and platform were banked.

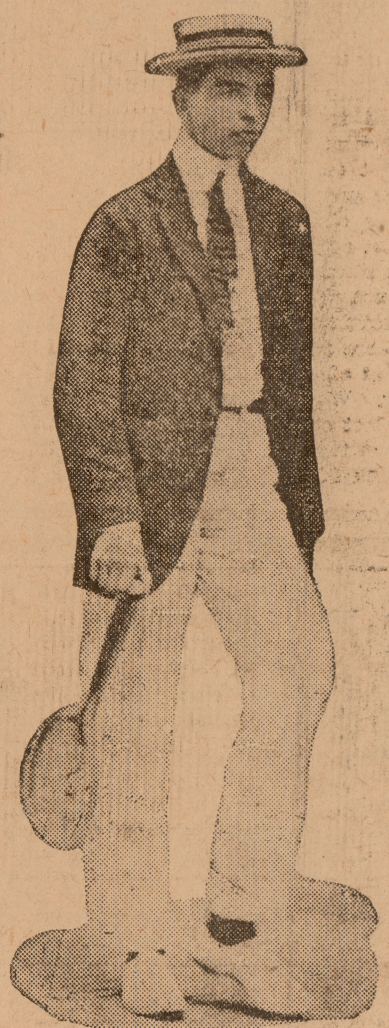

Early in the service, the pastor administered the rite of baptism to ten small children who were presented at the altar by their parents and made touching reference to the beautiful little Maxine Holley who would have been baptized that morning with her brother and sister.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Deibel, whose fine efficiency in this line of work has long since become well recognized. Minor White presided at the organ and Messrs. Byrn and Vorhees aided with cornet and flute.

VINCENT ASTOR

Heir to Millions, Whose Betrothal Is Now Denied.

HEIR TO MANY MILLIONS

Vincent Astor's Engagement to Miss Hamersley Is Denied.

New York, June 14.—Vincent Astor is the only son of John Jacob Astor. It is estimated that the young man will inherit about $100,000,000, and it is probable that this will be increased to double that amount by the increase of the Astor fortune within the next twenty years or so. Vincent Astor is the sole heir of the house of Astor in America. He was born Nov. 15, 1891.

Young Astor has been reported as engaged to marry Miss Catherine L. Hamersley, who with her brother inherited several millions from several members of her family. This report, however, has been denied.

GOLDEN WEDDING WELL OBSERVED

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Page, celebrated Tuesday in their home at 312 Oak street, included many particularly felicitous features. Except for a brother of Mrs. Page's, residing in Syracuse, New York, the entire family were present, numbering sixteen. This included four children—Mrs. George M. Foster, living near Ann Arbor, Mrs. William E. McLeod, Miss Louise Page, and Benjamin Page, jr. The four grandchildren were Benjamin, and George I. Robert P. and Ruth Foster. Everybody present was related to the host and hostess.

The company sat down at six o'clock to a delicious dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Page were married in East Bethany, New York. They have however resided in Ypsilanti for 40 years. They were remembered with many beautiful gifts in gold, silver pieces and a big postcard shower.

QUESTIONS FOR KNOX TO ANSWER

Secretary of State Appears before House Committee.

MATTERS TO BE EXPLAINED

Why Did Senator Hale's Son Draw $5,000 and from Whence Did That Mysterious Day Portrait Voucher Appear?

Washington, June 14.—Secretary of State Knox was to appear before the house committee on expenditures in the state department at 3 o'clock this afternoon, to be questioned concerning a peculiar payment of $5,000 by the department to Frederick Hale, a son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine.

He will also be asked about the mysterious reappearance of the long lost voucher for $2,450 in the Day portrait case. Secretary Knox was subpoenaed as the result of disclosures before the committee.

The committee wants to know why the Canadian boundary fund was increased by $5,000 at the instance of the state department without the knowledge of Dr. O. H. Tittman, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, who has charge of disbursements of the fund, and why this $5,000 was turned over to Frederick Hale, on no other authority than Mr. Knox's "O. K." on a slip of paper pinned to an unsigned voucher.

This voucher bears only the signature of Mr. Hale, showing that he received the money, two places where the official signatures are customarily placed being vacant. The slip bearing Mr. Knox's "O. K." contains Mr. Hale's expense account and compensation aggregating $6,182.80. There is a "discount" of $1,182.80 and Mr. Hale received the balance. The committee also wants to know what this discount means.

Senator Hale was chairman of the powerful appropriations committee in the senate when the estimates of Dr. Tittman for the Canadian boundary fund were increased $5,000 without his knowledge. Dr. Tittman told the committee he had never seen any evidence of the younger Mr. Hale's activities for which he received $5,000.

Chairman Hamlin and his associates on the committee said they were "thunder struck" when they learned that the Day portrait voucher had been discovered lying on the floor of the disbursing clerk's office in the state department.

This voucher, withdrawn from the department files in 1906 by order of Secretary Root, had not been seen since then. Mr. Root testified he did not know what had become of it. Secretary Knox said the same thing. A careful search failed to disclose it. The state department issued a statement in which they say the payment to Hale was "entirely usual and simple." The statement says further that Secretary Knox notified Chairman Hamlin that he had found the Day portrait voucher, but Chairman Hamlin indicated that the information was news to him when he obtained it from a witness.

SCIENTISTS DISCUSS THE STORM EFFECTS

The meeting of the Scientific Society of the Normal Monday night proved to be one of the most interesting meetings of the current year. Room A of the Science building being too small to accommodate the enthusiastic company of members, faculty, students and townspeople present, the meeting was held in the Training school chapel.

ARRANGE FOR SAFE OBSERVANCE OF JULY 4.

A sane Fourth of July for the M. E. Sunday school was determined upon Tuesday evening at the meeting of the M. E. Sunday school board and officers after their potluck supper in the diningroom of the church. A committee, consisting of A. A. Parsons, Clarence Sanderson and W. H. Pearce was appointed, and the plan contemplates the entertaining of the children at Recreation Park in such a manner that the element of danger shall be eliminated.

The plan of the Junior league and the Sunday school giving an excursion, probably to Belle Isle, was also considered.

TRAINING SCHOOL EXERCISES THURSDAY 48 TO BE PROMOTED

The closing exercises of the Training school, which will represent some phases of the history of Ypsilanti, are to be held on Thursday, June 15, at 3:30 p. m. in Mr. Owen's field at the rear of President Jones's residence. In case the weather is unfavorable on Thursday, the exercises will be postponed until Friday morning at nine o'clock.

In reaching the field, patrons are requested to take the lane between the Science building and President Jones's residence and avoid crossing Mr. Owen's yard. Mr. Owen has been kind enough to grant the use of his field for the exercises and the least the Training school patrons can do is to respect the rights of the surrounding private property.

The hour of the eighth grade closing exercises has been changed from 2:30 to 1:30 Thursday afternoon, 48 will be promoted to the high school.

The entire program consisted of topics relative to the gale of June 4th. Prof. Ross of the Ypsilanti high school, who acted as chairman of the meeting, introduced Prof. Mark Jefferson who gave a very interesting talk entitled, "Was the Storm a Cyclone?"

Mr. Jefferson said that he had no preconceived idea of what had happened but looked about for causes and effects. "What you and I saw," he showed by means of lantern slides. These slides included pictures of fallen trees, the cottonwood on Normal St., the elm on the campus, the pair of trees at the entrance to the President's driveway, the maple at the south entrance to the College, the large trees in Highland cemetery, trees on Forest Ave. and others, all of which were blown to the southeast. Had the storm of June 4th been a cyclone or tornado the trees would not have fallen all in the same direction. Then too, when a tornado passes through a place the barometer falls. This was not true of Sunday night's storm, the barometer fell only about 1/5 of an inch. Mr. Jefferson compared the gale here with the Galveston disaster, showing differences in barometric pressure, wind velocity, temperature, etc., and proved by comparison that we are not warranted in calling the storm of June 4th a tornado. He spoke of the periods of oscillation of the trees and the effect which gusts and lulls would have on them. He spoke of buildings near Ypsilanti which were damaged by the storm and pointed out the fact that these, too, showed that the wind was in the same direction, northwest. We must conclude therefore that it was the "Gale of June 4th" and not a cyclone.

An interesting discussion followed. Prof. Sherzer reading a letter from the weather department at Detroit in which is corroborated the assertion made by Prof. Jefferson denying that the storm was a cyclone.

Mr. Parkins then talked on "The Storm Throughout the State." He said that the storm area was included in a quadrangle formed by joining the points, Grand Haven, Cadillac, Bay City and Monroe, the greatest destruction being between Monroe and Detroit. Lansing lost hundreds of trees and several people were killed. Alma, Owosso and Mt. Clemens suffered much damage and at River Rouge a church was taken off its foundation; poles were down and trees destroyed. The wind at Detroit was almost 60 miles an hour and the storm was spoken of as a "baby tornado." Little damage was done on the lakes. Our loss was mostly in trees, the people who were killed came in contact with live wires.

Prof. Gorton followed with a talk on "Lifting Power of Winds." In it he

MORE PROGRESS.

The passage by the United States senate of the resolution providing for the amendment of the federal constitution, so as to permit of the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, is another victory for the progressive branch of the republican party and the progressive branch of the democratic party. The amendment to the bill as originally drafted, retaining federal control over these elections, will no doubt be criticized by the ultra-progressives as not embodying all that they wish. But we believe it is a distinct move forward along the lines of restoring to the people a democratic form of government.

It will aid greatly in peopling the United States senate with senators who really do represent the people and are responsive to their needs and demands. Selfish interests could well afford to spend the necessary amount of money to control a state convention, and a state legislature even, in order to elect a United States senator who would be pledged in advance to help put through gigantic pieces of graft, from which they would receive a very large return on the investment in bribery necessary to elect that senator. But to control the machinery, under a direct primary system will be an entirely different matter and one which is not likely to be attractive to the briber nor the grafter. The vote of 64 to 24 is significant of the waning of strength of the reactionary wing in both the democratic and republican party.

Ypsilanti Township, June 14.—With telephone service entirely out of commission, one is ill prepared to give any adequate report of the big storm Sunday night. But that there has been serious damage done could be told immediately after the first lull in the severe wind. But while the lightning was painting tragedy in the skies, lanterns could be seen swinging in the yards of neighbors, who were counting up their damages, shutting doors, collecting livestock to safety. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Freeman of Ypsilanti drove out to their farm early Monday morning, a distance of a mile from the limits, and passed five windmills demolished, their own included.

Levi Freeman's and W. W. Voorhees' big barns were partly unroofed. Charles Crittenden's woodshed was blown off its foundations and between 45 and 50 trees uprooted or twisted mostly fruit trees, 20 being cherry trees filled with fruit.

The barn of Mrs. Maria Tuttle was blown in and their beautiful orchard ruined, most of the trees in which were apple, loaded with choice fruit. The porch of Rolland Fletcher's house was blown around the house to the wood pile.

Charles Crittenden's apiary of about 75 colonies stood intact under their pen sheds, with trees twisted and uprooted on either side. It needs little imagination to picture the commotion those overturned hives of bees would have stirred up.

A man passing in the early morning called out, "I passed five barns blown down flat. I came from Sumpter."

Wilmer Corkins' new barn had one side fall in, but was repaired Monday. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dale was the scene of a pretty wedding when their eldest daughter, Besie Ferne, was united in marriage to Robert Fulton in the presence of about 30 guests composed of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock in front of a bank of ferns and syringas, the Rev. Mr. Leeson officiating. The bride was gowned in white Marquis silk trimmed in allover spangle lace and pearl beading was attended by her sister, Miss Clara M. Dale, who was gowned in blue Japonica silk. The groom was supported by Mr. Harold Staley. After the wedding Mr. Harold Staley. Many beautiful presents were received consisting of silverware, linen and china. The bride is well known in and about Ypsilanti and both bride and groom have the best wishes of all for a happy and successful life.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. Exelton, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases. We know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it is free and always helpful.

SCIENTISTS DISCUSS THE

said that the tonic was suggested to him by the roof from the heating plant which was so badly damaged. This roof had an overhang of 30 inches and was 40 feet long. It would take an immense wind pressure to raise such a roof. If a mild wind sweeps over a roof it flows down on the opposite side, if the wind is strong, a vacuum is created on the opposite side and if the wind is violent the vacuum is increased in size. This vacuum reduces the pressure on that side, and one-half pound to the square inch of pressure reduced is enough to cause such a roof to break open. Once open, it is an easy matter for the wind to get in under it and carry it.

An interesting discussion followed. Miss Goddard then gave a forceful talk on "Trees of Ypsilanti in our Recent Storm." "The force of the storms," she said, "seemed to be felt more on the other side of the river than on this side." Most of the trees that succumbed to the storm were either in bad condition because of improper trimming or lack of care or were trees with soft woods such as the Carolina poplars, willows and ash-leaved maples which were often broken where the trees were sound. Maples and other substantial trees broke in places where moisture had collected and bacteria had found conditions favorable to growth. One maple fell on our campus which had growing in it adventitious roots. One on Ellis St. was another and similar example. Many trees broke where they forked moisture having collected there and the tree decayed. Some trees which were trimmed so as to leave long stubs had rotted. The trees could not heal such long stubs and because they were cut in such a manner as to allow the moisture to collect and thus make a good place for the growth of bacteria. The bacteria soon caused the decay of the stub and gradually a large part of the interior of the tree had decayed. Such trees are of course in very bad condition. There were many such cases and these trees lacked resisting power. The elm has a large root system near the surface of the ground and this evidently had something to do with the falling of these trees. The storm must have struck at Miss Woodward's on Grove street on the east side of the river with great force as several elms and other strong trees were uprooted. From conditions which we found after the storm we can plainly see that it is not wise to plant box-elders and Carolina poplars. They grow rapidly but are not resistant to storms on account of their soft wood. It does not pay. We see also what it means to neglect our trees. We have very few sound trees in Ypsilanti. Many trees which fell would not have fallen had they been properly cared for. Mr. Elliott, on Normal street, has in his yard a large elm. Just before the storm he had a tree surgeon doctor the tree. The rotten part was chiseled out, disinfected applied, cavity filled with cement and painted over and the limbs were braced. Had he not done this ahead of the storm he would probably have lost his tree as many trees around there fell. Broken limbs should be cut off close to the tree cutting so as to leave a slanting surface so that the rain will run off and water cannot collect. The wound should then be painted over. A tree should never have its branches braced by passing a wire around them as this injures the tree. Bolts should be driven through the branches and the ends of the bolts connected by wire. This would avoid unsightly and injurious bracing. This work should be done now.

Prof. Strong concluded the evening's program with a talk on "Economic Aspect of the Storm." He said that the cost to our city and citizens is large. The tornado of '93 did not do as much harm. He spoke of control gained over nature through knowledge—lightning, pestilence, fire and flood are under control. This control means to deprive one of liberty. The government must say, "Do This" or "Don't do that," and does it pay? Tornado, means to reform society and it means a cost in money. A storm like the one we had June 4th is likely to occur three or four times in a year. Our knowledge is deficient on these subjects; we must learn to care for our trees. We must build and plant against such storms as the recent one. Storms are selective—this one selected trees. Ornaments of white pine were much used on houses some time ago—storms destroyed them! now we are building more substantially. Chimneys are blown down if they are constructed so as to get the full force of the wind. Trees here have been poorly cared for and hence are not resistant to storms.

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people.

Now that vacation is at hand the students of music at the Normal College are returning the Pianos they rented from us during the winter. This sudden addition to our regular stock crowded us to such an extent that we were obliged to adopt some measure for disposing of these instruments other than going to the expense of shipping them to our Detroit Headquarters.

So we decided to offer these Pianos to the people of Ypsilanti and vicinity at reductions that will be certain to move them where they belong—in the homes of music-lovers.

Included in this Sale are the Pianos of our regular line which embraces the following World Famous makes:

Steinway, Grinnell Bros. Our Own Make, Sohmer, Vose, Wegman, Sterling, Smith & Barnes, Mendelssohn, Huntington

If you buy one of these celebrated instruments at this Sale you will be buying perfect musical satisfaction at a very low price. These Pianos have had the very best of care—music lovers and students are, naturally very careful of their instruments—many of them are as good as new in every respect and when we offer them to you at our SPECIAL LOW PRICES you save not only all the rent we have received on them but in many cases we make even greater reductions, for these Pianos must be moved and at once.

Our Sale Stock Presents a Fine Assortment of Beautiful Instruments

Pianos, to meet the requirements of students of music, must be of the very best construction, the tone must be full, sweet and clear; the action highly responsive—they must in every way be thoroughly dependable. And these are the characteristics of the Pianos of our line—of these rental instruments now coming back to us; and offered at such great savings.

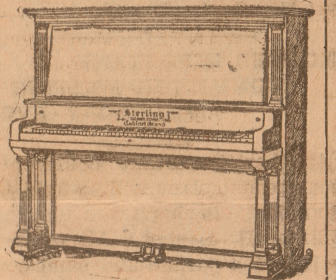

In addition to the rental Pianos we also include in the Sale stock all exchanged and shopworn instruments on our floors, also a number of choice instruments from the stock of Root's Music House of Ann Arbor which we purchased at a great reduction. Quick buyers get them at a fraction of their regular price. Like the rental stock they have been carefully adjusted and tuned. They are backed by our guarantee and with each we give the privilege of FREE EXCHANGE any time within a year for any new instrument of our celebrated line. SPEED ON PATHS IN GREAT DEMAND

League Managers Hotfoot After Players Who Can Pifer Sacks.

COBB BIG HELP TO TIGERS.

Detroit Outfielder's Great Base Running Has Won Many Games—Collins of Philadelphia Another—In 1906 White Sox Speed Boys Beat Cubs.

Speed is one of the greatest essentials of modern baseball. It implies quick mental as well as physical action, both offensively and defensively. Take any one of the major league pennant winners within the past decade and you will find that this quality of speed has been strongly evidenced, both individually and collectively. The world's champion Athletics boast the fleet Eddie Collins, champion base stealer of the major leagues in 1910. Ty Cobb's speed as much as his hitting ability helped Hughie Jennings to win three consecutive pennants and is doing much to win another this season. It was the speed of the Chicago White Sox in 1906 that upset the Cubs in a world's series, to the amazement of the country. Fred Clarke's Pirates and Frank Chance's Cubs are always at or near the top of the National league heap because, even if they boast no Collins or Cobb, they both have some fast and handy men.

Sliding to bases is also a necessary accomplishment in a great base runner. How to get into top speed in the quickest possible time and how to slide can only be acquired by constant practice.

There are two motives in sliding. The principal one is to present to the guardian of a station the smallest part is believed to qualify him for such a position. If there is one man in baseball who has had the opportunity to learn the fine points of the game and the duties of a manager it is Davis, who under Connie Mack has proved a great success as field captain.

There is, of course, a great difference between being the chief lieutenant of a man like Mack and being thrown on his own responsibility, but Davis should succeed even though he does not himself engage in the game.

PASSING OF OLD CY YOUNG.

American League Owe Much to Veteran Pitcher Who Will Quit.

The retirement of Cy Young, which seems probable now that Cleveland has let him go, has been predicted for several years, but on each occasion the veteran has come back and shown that he could still deliver the goods. But it was the first time in Young's career that waivers have been asked on him, and it would seem that the old fellow might have been spared this humiliation, since it seems certain that none of the other clubs in the majors will care to carry him and he is not apt to go to the minors.

Cy Young has done much for baseball. He has been one of the pillars of the sport for these many years. There never was a time that he did not give his club his very best services, and the occasions when he has not been of the greatest artistic benefit during the twenty-two seasons of his career have been few and far between indeed.

The American league owes much to Young. When he joined the ranks of the new organization he proved the entering wedge for an influx of players from the old league. Players, managers and the public always had confidence in old Cy, and there is no doubt that much of the success the American league attained resulted from Young joining the ranks of the new league. Of course that was years ago and under conditions quite different from those existing today, and such deeds are often forgotten in baseball.

DETROIT CASTOFF DIGS UP A MOST PECULIAR EXCUSE.

Jimmy Casey, who was once the idol of the Detroit fans when he played with the Tigers and now manager of the Fort Wayne club, tells an interesting story on Pitcher Peasey, tried out by the Tigers last spring and turned over to Fort Wayne for development.

"We had three men on the bases and none out, with Peasey pitching, one day," said Casey. "Onslow, the catcher, caught a man off second. The batter could not hit a low ball, and Onslow kept signaling Peasey to put it near his knees. Peasey, however, persisted in keeping it wide."

"I called Peasey to one side and remonstrated with him. 'What are you pitching that way for?' I asked."

"I thought I would waste on this fellow and fill the bases so that Onslow can catch another man off second," he replied.

"As an excuse for lack of control that beats anything."

DAVIS TO BECOME MANAGER.

Athletics' First Baseman Slated to Handle Cleveland Team Next Year.
Harry Davis, the captain of the Philadelphia Americans and one of the most popular players in the junior organization, acknowledges that he is slated to become the manager of the Cleveland team next season.

That Davis would eventually be placed in charge of some team in this league has been a foregone conclusion. The fact that he has been identified for many years with one of the most successful managers in the game

A Pleasant Session.

Monday night's session was an important one with the Knight's of Pythias. About one hundred gathered to witness the second degree conferred on a number of candidates and afterwards to sit down to a banquet from which the company did not rise till very late. Killian's orchestra played. The company was further regaled by a song by George Parsons and by a vaudeville sketch done by the people at the opera house this week and consisting of a song and dance, buck and ring dancing and sketches done by a lightning water color artist, Mme. Daro. J. Stuart Lathers was toast master and called upon Senator Newton, F. L. Gallup, W. S. Putnam, Foster Ostrander to respond. Next Monday evening the second degree will be conferred, and a large attendance is especially desired. At 2 o'clock on Sunday the K. P.'s will observe their memorial day in their hall and later go to Highland. A week from Monday night the third degree will be conferred.

Falling Hair Ends and Hair Grows Profusely

Your money back if Parisian Sage isn't the best hair tonic—the best hair grower—the best hair saver—you ever used, you be the judge. Ask Duane Spalsbury.

It's really a wonder what a phenomenal sale Parisian Sage has made for itself in America in a few years. And what a multitude of people have been cured of falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp by its use.

And now the American women praise Parisian Sage for its peculiar ability to turn harsh, faded, lusterless hair into fresh, beautiful, silky and lustrous hair in a few days.

Parisian Sage is today the favorite hair dressing and tonic of discriminating Americans, because it is the only hair grower that will do as it is advertised to do, or money back.

It kills the dandruff germ and cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks. If it doesn't Duane Spalsbury and druggists everywhere will give you your money back.

If you haven't tried Parisian Sage get a large 50 cent bottle today.
